HyperVibe is a team of health experts, fitness enthusiasts, and technical professionals based on the Sunshine Coast, Queensland, Australia. We have spent many years researching, developing, and training with, Whole Body Vibration machines. We understand that the Whole Body Vibration market is full of misinformation, bad marketing, inflated prices, and dubious claims. Our aim is to provide Australian consumers with Australia's most affordable, quality Whole Body Vibration platforms, whilst maintaining professionalism and integrity in our service and advice.

Vibration training is still in its infancy and HyperVibe fully supports the need for more research and science behind Whole Body Vibration. We have seen firsthand, the great benefits and achievements that can be made through Whole Body Vibration training, and would like to see further studies done to prove what we already know. HyperVibe vibration exercise has changed the lives of many Australian's and will change the lives of many more.

Feel free to drop by our Sunshine Coast showroom/warehouse anytime.
